

Kinesiology
KINESIOL 1ED3
Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion in Physical Activity
Winter 2027

SCIENCE

Instructor Information

Dr. Kyoung June Yi
Email: kin1ed3@mcmaster.ca
Office Hours:
By Appointment

Course Information

Lectures: Tues/Thurs/Fri 8:30 AM - 9:20 AM see Mosaic for location

Labs: N/A

Tutorials:N/A

Course Dates: 01/04/2027 - 04/07/2027

Units: 3.00

Course Delivery Mode: In Person

Course Description: This course invites students to embark on a journey to enhance critical knowledge, capacity, and competency in applying equity, diversity, and inclusion principles in Kinesiology learning and practice. Employing an interdisciplinary approach, the course explores the processes and outcomes of persistent and systemic marginalization in various physical activity contexts, along with strategies for addressing these social injustices. Lectures (three hours); one term Prerequisite(s): Registration in Level I Honours Kinesiology. KINESIOL 1ED3 can count towards the six units of Faculty of Science elective credit for Honours

Kinesiology students who completed this course in the 2023-2024 Fall/Winter Terms.

Meeting Details

For all course-related communication, please email at kin1ed3@mcmaster.ca.

I am available to meet after each class. For private meetings, please schedule an appointment at a time that works for you.

Important Links

- Mosaic
- Avenue to Learn
- Student Accessibility Services - Accommodations
- McMaster University Library
- eReserves
- Open Education Resources

Course Learning Outcomes

- Have their own definition of key terms (specified in each class) with defensible rationale.
- Self-identify their own positionality within the shifting power relations in Canadian society and its implications for learning and practice in kinesiology.
- Explain complex and intersecting mechanisms creating and perpetuating systemic marginalization within physical activity contexts.
- Identify barriers to and facilitators for physical activity participation unique to each equity deserving group in Canada and the differences within each group.
- Apply innovations and opportunities for change at various levels of kinesiology learning and practice, employing a range of interdisciplinary concepts, theories, models, methods, and strategies discussed throughout the course.
- Become a reflexive learner, practitioner, leader, and advocate who makes consistent efforts to promote equity, diversity, and inclusion in various contexts of physical activity.

Required Materials and Texts

Please sign in with your MacID here to view your booklist

N/A

There is no required textbook for this course. Online links to the required readings will be provided via Avenue. Readings will be freely available through the McMaster library and external websites.

Class Format

In Person

We will meet in-person. You are the center of your learning. Therefore, I encourage you to participate in your education actively, promoting your personal growth and lifelong learning. This course will feature various interactive and hands-on learning activities such as small group discussion, peer learning, team-based learning, critical self-reflection, role play, case study, and talking circles.

To fully acknowledge real-life issues, we will have the privilege to listen to the stories of people with lived experiences of systemic oppression and exclusion in physical activity. Furthermore, we will invite researchers, in-service practitioners, field experts, and community stakeholders from various academic and professional sectors as speakers or panel members to maximize interdisciplinary and community-informed learning experiences. Some of these sessions will be pre-recorded as a way of honouring the time and location of some of the invitees. Recorded sessions will be made available on Avenue. Approximately 30 minutes of additional work outside these virtual sessions will be assigned for your reflection. More information about virtual sessions will be available on Avenue.

Course Evaluation

The course will include four evaluation items.

Course Evaluation Details

Method	Evaluation	Weight
Learning Binder	Three reflexive projects	25
Group Case Study	Accessibility audit project	25
Midterm Exam	Multiple choice, short & long answer	25
*Final Exam	Multiple choice, short & long answer	25

*This is the final assessment piece for the course. If this component is completed, you cannot withdraw from the course.

Undergraduate Grading Scale

The grades breakdown for McMaster's 12-Point Grading Scale

Grade	Equivalent Grade Point	Equivalent Percentages
A+	12	90-100
A	11	85-89
A-	10	80-84
B+	9	77-79
B	8	73-76
B-	7	70-72
C+	6	67-69
C	5	63-66
C-	4	60-62
D+	3	57-59
D	2	53-56
D-	1	50-52
F	0	0-49

Course Schedule

This is a draft copy and the final version will be posted at the start of term.

Week 1: Introduction

- Course overview
- Introduction to diversity and intersectionality in PA contexts

- Reflexive learning and practice in kinesiology

Week 2: Understanding Who I Am as a Kinesiology Student

- My cultures and my identities
- My social locations
- Who am I as a kinesiology student?

Week 3: Privilege and Marginalization in Active Living

- PA experiences among equity deserving groups in Canada
- Systemic barriers in PA
- Multiple and intersecting barriers in PA

Week 4: Promoting EDI in Active Living

- Enhancing equitable access and opportunities in PA
- Kinesiology related social inclusion theories and approaches
- Enhancing engagement and sense of belonging and place in PA

Week 5: Working with Disabled People

- Disability models and implications for kinesiology learning and practice
- Disability appreciation activities
- Addressing disability construction and disabling conditions in PA

Week 6: Working with Indigenous Peoples

- Reflecting on systemic oppression and intergenerational trauma
- Decolonization and Indigenization in kinesiology learning and practice 1
- Midterm Exam

Week 7: Working with Racialized People

- Experiences of racialized people in PA participation
- Anti-racism and reconciliation in kinesiology learning and practice 1
- Anti-racism and reconciliation in kinesiology learning and practice 2

Week 8: Working with People Living with Limited Resources

- Poverty Awareness and Community Action workshop 1
- Poverty Awareness and Community Action workshop 2
- Poverty Awareness and Community Action workshop 3

Week 9: Working with Marginalized People Due to Gender Identities and Sexuality

- Intersectional barriers to and opportunities for PA engagement 1
- Intersectional barriers to and opportunities for PA engagement 2
- Intersectional barriers to and opportunities for PA engagement 3

Week 10: Working with Displaced People

- Listening from the practitioners: Working with newcomers 1
- Listening from the practitioners: Working with newcomers 2
- Listening from the practitioners: Working with urban and remote communities

Week 11: Working with Marginalized People Due to Age

- Designing age-inclusive PA environments
- Listening from the researchers
- EDI focused strategies in kinesiology learning and practice

Week 12: Promoting EDI Excellence in Kinesiology Learning and Practice (with an emphasis on intersectionality)

- Knowledge exchange circles 1
- Knowledge exchange circles 2
- Knowledge exchange circles 3

Laboratory Overview, Operation, and Safety

N/A

Late Assignments

Greater than 15 min late (i.e., past due date) will result in a -10% penalty. At 24 hrs past deadline, an additional -15% penalty will be added. At 48hrs past deadline, an additional -25% will be added. Any submission beyond 72hrs late will be given a grade of 0. Students are responsible for ensuring that they have submitted (1) the correct document and that it is (2) accessible, based on the requirement of the A2L Dropbox. Assignments submitted that are inaccessible or otherwise unreadable will receive the above late penalty, regardless of time of discovery.

Turnitin.com

Some courses may use a web-based service (Turnitin.com) to reveal authenticity and ownership of student submitted work. For courses using such software, students will be expected to submit their work electronically either directly to Turnitin.com or via an online learning platform (e.g. A2L, etc.) using plagiarism detection (a service supported by Turnitin.com) so it can be checked for academic dishonesty.

Students who do not wish their work to be submitted through the plagiarism detection software must inform the Instructor before the assignment is due. No penalty will be assigned to a student who does not submit work to the plagiarism detection software. All submitted work is subject to normal verification that standards of academic integrity have been upheld (e.g., on-line search, other software, etc.). For more details about McMaster's use of Turnitin.com please go to www.mcmaster.ca/academicintegrity.

Course Modification

The course can be adjusted during the term to accommodate students' learning pace.

Generative AI: Use Prohibited

Students are not permitted to use generative AI in this course. In alignment with McMaster academic integrity policy, it "shall be an offence knowingly to ... submit academic work for assessment that was purchased or acquired from another source". This includes work created by generative AI tools. Also stated in the policy is the following, "Contract Cheating is the act of "outsourcing of student work to third parties" (Lancaster & Clarke, 2016, p. 639) with or without payment." Using Generative AI tools is a form of contract cheating. Charges of academic dishonesty will be brought forward to the Office of Academic Integrity.

Course Specific Relief for Missed Academic Work Information

Requests for Relief for Missed Academic Term Work

In the event of an absence for medical or other reasons, students should review and follow the Policy on Requests for Relief for Missed Academic Term Work.

Requests for missed academic work worth less than 25% of the final grade resulting from personal or medical situations, lasting up to 3 calendar days, can be reported, once per term, without documentation, using the McMaster Student Absence Form (MSAF). Relief for missed work for a longer duration or for other reasons must be reported to your Faculty office, and relief from term work may not necessarily be granted. When using the MSAF, report your absence to the course instructor immediately (kin1ed3@mcmaster.ca). Please note that the MSAF may not be used for final deliverables, nor can it be used for a final examination.

- Missed midterm exam: not MSAF-extension eligible (25% of the final grade).
- Missed deadline for an individual activity of the learning binder: An approved MSAF will grant an additional 72-hour extension to the submission window. Follow MSAF procedures and communicate via kin1ed3@mcmaster.ca for both notification and form submission.
- Missed group case study: not MSAF-extension eligible.
- Missed final exam: Students who miss a Registrar-scheduled final exam can apply to the Associate Dean's office for permission to write in the deferred final exam schedule. In all cases, appropriate documentation must be submitted to the Office of the Associate Dean, Faculty of Science, for consideration of deferred examination permission. Under no circumstances will the instructor re-schedule a final exam for individual students.

Checking Grades & Regrade Policy

Checking Your Grades

Your grades will be recorded on Avenue. It is your responsibility to verify that all grades have been entered correctly. Any concerns or discrepancies must be reported via email to kin1ed3@mcmaster.ca within one week of the grade being posted.

Regrade Policy

If you believe your work has not been graded fairly, you must submit a clear and organized written rationale—using the assignment outline and grading rubric—explaining why you are requesting a regrade. This request must be submitted via email to kin1ed3@mcmaster.ca within one week of receiving your grade.

If your rationale is deemed reasonable, the assignment will be re-graded by a different evaluator. The resulting grade will be considered final, regardless of whether it is higher or lower than the original mark.

APPROVED ADVISORY STATEMENTS

Academic Integrity

You are expected to exhibit honesty and use ethical behaviour in all aspects of the learning process. Academic credentials you earn are rooted in principles of honesty and academic integrity. It is your responsibility to understand what constitutes academic dishonesty.

Academic dishonesty is to knowingly act or fail to act in a way that results or could result in unearned academic credit or advantage. This behaviour can result in serious consequences, e.g. the grade of zero on an assignment, loss of credit with a notation on the transcript (notation reads: "Grade of F assigned for academic dishonesty"), and/or suspension or expulsion from the university. For information on the various types of academic dishonesty please refer to the Academic Integrity Policy.

The following illustrates only three forms of academic dishonesty:

- plagiarism, e.g. the submission of work that is not one's own or for which other credit has been obtained.

- improper collaboration in group work.
- copying or using unauthorized aids in tests and examinations.

Authenticity / Plagiarism

Some courses may use a web-based service (Turnitin.com) to reveal authenticity and ownership of student submitted work. For courses using such software, students will be expected to submit their work electronically either directly to Turnitin.com or via an online learning platform (e.g. Avenue to Learn, etc.) using plagiarism detection (a service supported by Turnitin.com) so it can be checked for academic dishonesty.

Students who do not wish their work to be submitted through the plagiarism detection software must inform the Instructor before the assignment is due. No penalty will be assigned to a student who does not submit work to the plagiarism detection software. All submitted work is subject to normal verification that standards of academic integrity have been upheld (e.g., on-line search, other software, etc.). For more details about McMaster's use of Turnitin.com please go to www.mcmaster.ca/academicintegrity.

Courses with an On-line Element

Some courses may use on-line elements (e.g. e-mail, Avenue to Learn, LearnLink, web pages, capa, Moodle, ThinkingCap, etc.). Students should be aware that, when they access the electronic components of a course using these elements, private information such as first and last names, user names for the McMaster e-mail accounts, and program affiliation may become apparent to all other students in the same course. The available information is dependent on the technology used. Continuation in a course that uses on-line elements will be deemed consent to this disclosure. If you have any questions or concerns about such disclosure please discuss this with the course instructor.

Online Proctoring

Some courses may use online proctoring software for tests and exams. This software may require students to turn on their video camera, present identification, monitor and record their computer activities, and/or lock/restrict their browser or other applications/software during tests or exams. This software may be required to be installed before the test/exam begins.

Conduct Expectations

As a McMaster student, you have the right to experience, and the responsibility to demonstrate, respectful and dignified interactions within all of our living, learning and working communities. These expectations are described in the Code of Student Rights & Responsibilities (the “Code”). All students share the responsibility of maintaining a positive environment for the academic and personal growth of all McMaster community members, whether in person or online.

It is essential that students be mindful of their interactions online, as the Code remains in effect in virtual learning environments. The Code applies to any interactions that adversely affect, disrupt, or interfere with reasonable participation in University activities. Student disruptions or behaviours that interfere with university functions on online platforms (e.g. use of Avenue 2 Learn, WebEx or Zoom for delivery), will be taken very seriously and will be investigated. Outcomes may include restriction or removal of the involved students’ access to these platforms.

Academic Accommodation of Students with Disabilities

Students with disabilities who require academic accommodation must contact Student Accessibility Services (SAS) at 905-525-9140 ext. 28652 or sas@mcmaster.ca to make arrangements with a Program Coordinator. For further information, consult McMaster University’s Academic Accommodation of Students with Disabilities policy.

Requests for Relief for Missed Academic Term Work

In the event of an absence for medical or other reasons, students should review and follow the Policy on Requests for Relief for Missed Academic Term Work.

Academic Accommodation for Religious, Indigenous, or Spiritual Observances (RISO)

Students requiring academic accommodation based on religious, Indigenous or spiritual observances should follow the procedures set out in the RISO policy. Students should submit their request to their Faculty Office normally within 10 working days of the beginning of term in which they anticipate a need for accommodation or to the Registrar's Office prior to their examinations. Students should also contact their instructors as soon as possible to make alternative arrangements for classes, assignments, and tests.

Copyright and Recording

Students are advised that lectures, demonstrations, performances, and any other course material provided by an instructor include copyright protected works. The Copyright Act and copyright law protect every original literary, dramatic, musical and artistic work, including lectures by University instructors.

The recording of lectures, tutorials, or other methods of instruction may occur during a course. Recording may be done by either the instructor for the purpose of authorized distribution, or by a student for the purpose of personal study. Students should be aware that their voice and/or image may be recorded by others during the class. Please speak with the instructor if this is a concern for you.

Extreme Circumstances

The University reserves the right to change the dates and deadlines for any or all courses in extreme circumstances (e.g., severe weather, labour disruptions, etc.).

Changes will be communicated through regular McMaster communication channels, such as McMaster Daily News, Avenue to Learn and/or McMaster email.